Extended to Pennsylvania Troops by San Franciscans.

A STURDY LOT OF SOLDIERS.

The Torn and Shot Riddled Battle Fing of the Tenth Excited More Admiration Than the Bronzed Soldiers - Nothing but a Dingy and Frayed Piece of Silk Brought Back. Troops Depressed by Loss of Their Commander.

BAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.-At 9 o'clock this morning the Pennsylvania troops disembarked from the transport Senator and commenced the march to the Presidio reservation where the sol-diers will go into camp preparatory to mustering out.

The reception accorded the soldiers from the Keystone state was similar to that given the Oregon, Nebraska and Utah boys who had preceded them home. Thousands upon thousands of people lined the streets through which the boys were to pass. The usual med-ley of steam whistles, cannon and fire works accompanied them all through the business section of the city. Lower Market street was packed with people and as the parade swung into that thoroughfare a mighty cheer went up and was carried all the way up the street and repeated. Flags waved constantly as the soldiers marched between the lipes of spectators and it seemed as if every piece of bunting and every flag in the city had been brought into ser-vice. From hotel windows and business houses streamers of bunting were thrown to the breeze and in some places strings of cowbells had been suspended from windows to add to the din Three heavy batteries, one light battery and the regimental band of the Third artillery came first in the parade, followed by the Nebraska regiment, and then came the Pennsylvanians, led by Lieutenant Colonel Barrett. Barrett's sword draped in crape out of respect to the memory of Col. Hawkins, commander of the regiment, who died at sea enroute home, caused a hush to fall on the multitudes.

The Pennsylvanians were a sturdy lot and presented even a better appearance, from a health standpoint, than did the Nebraska boys and those from Utah, but they ascribe this to the tonic effects of the sea air on the voyage and to the fact they went off the fighting line sometime before departing from the islands. To-day they were attired in blue uniforms and carried their blan-kets and rifles and their spick and span appearance commanded great attention. The soldiers accepted the attentions showered upon them modestly, plod-ding along with even step and only occasionally looking to the right or left. The expressions of gratification which their sunburned faces bore and an oc casional cheer were the only signs they permitted themselves to show that they appreciated the demonstrations of a grateful people. The plaudits of an admiring people could not dissipate the discipline of a way a new and a second not dissipate the discipline of a year's service in Uncle Sam's army and the loss of their commander hung heavily upon them.

forn, shot riddled and almost a wreck of its former beauty excited more admiration than did anything else. miration than did anything else. As soon as the color bearer came into sight, carrying the dingy and frayed piece of silk, a cheer, mightier, if possible, than any which had been given the boys, rang out and reverberated along the theories, who had, subpaged to walcome. throngs who had gathered to welcome the soldiers.

The ambulances of the Pennsylvanians brought up the rear of the regiment, bearing the sick and wounded. Following the Pennsylvanians came Battery C, of the Third artillery from the Presidio.

The parade was reviewed in Van Nese avenue by General Shafter and in the reviewing stand with him was the committee of Pennsylvanians who had come from the Keystone state to extend a welcome to their returned heroes. As the troops passed the reviewing stand they could not suppress a cheer and it was returned by those in the stand, bowing, waving handkerchiefs and

On arriving at the Presidio the work of going into camp was taken up with a vim and early in the afternoon the boys were comfortably quartered. Here they will remain for several weeks until they are mustered out when they will be taken to their Pennsylvania homes in a

Arrangements for their transportation east are nearing completion and by the time the soldiers are mustered out everything will be in readiness to have them rushed home.

Absolved From Secrecy.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—It appears that the minister of war, General Marquis de Galliffet, has absolved all military witesses at the court martial of Captain Dreyfus at Rennes, from professional secrecy, with the exception that he has requested them not to divulge names of French agents abroad or disclose anything which would complicate the foreign relations of France.

IRON TRADE.

The Bising Tendency Continues Unabted-Delays in Delivery.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—In its review of trade conditions the Iron Age to-day

The rising tendency continues unabated, and it is a question whether delays in deliveries have not actually become worse than better lately. Scarcity of labor, scarcity of coke, of pig iron, billets, wire rods, is troubling makers from step to step upward to the final consumer.

Sales for delivery during the first of 1900 and beyond are growing more num-erous, thus showing that many buyers are willing to pay present prices for the certainty of securing their supplies. So far as deliveries during the balance of the year are concerned, the main-tenance of prices is conceded by the majority, while every day brings accessions to the ranks of those who hold that we are to see a considerably higher level yet for urgent requirements. This seems to be the situation in pig iron, both in foundry and in Bessemer grades and for delivery during the next few months there has been a further advance. Pittsburgh records sales of Bessemer pig as high as $21 Valley fur-

Steel continues exceedingly scarce and high prices are being paid for prompt shipments, notably for open hearth stocks. It is significant that one rolling mill has just given an order for the importation from England of 750 tons of open hearth billets and that other inquiries are at hand.

While the capture of many large bridge orders for foreign markets has attracted a good deal of general attention, striking progress has been very quietly made in extending a market for buildings and sheds.

We understand that buildings have been thus captured, not alone for the West Indies, Chile, Peru, and Central American states, but also for European countries.

Humble Heroes. In the olden times the heroes were those of noble birth. A great a golden deed done by a peasant, a mechanic, or a merchant was rarely noticed. Peasanti-born men and women could not be beroes or herolnes. For a man or woman to be honored they must belong to the aristocracy. Courtesy and heroism were not to be expected from base-born people. Times have changed, and we now more frequently find our modern heroes in the humble walks of life. It is the fireman wro risks his life to bring from a burning building a woman whom he has never seen before; it is the eggineer who willingly gives his life for a train load of men and women of whom he knows nothing; it is the nurse in the hospital who dies trying to save strangers from a contagious disease; it is the reformer who for humanity's sake exposes him to ridicule, contempt, and violence. In defense of the right; it is the school teacher who, in the Nebraska bilizand, saves the school and surendors her own life. It is these, and such as these, who lay no claim to the title of lady and gentleman as those title of lady and gentleman as those the lepters and distressed, it is the common people who devote themselves to the helpters and distressed, it is these whom it modern times. The deed done by a peasant, a mechanic, or mon people who devote themselves to the helpless and distressed. It is these whom we honor in modern times. The base-born rall-splitter towers above the genity born men and women about him compelling the world's admiration for his greatness.—The Spectator.

FRAUD PRACTICED

By Cuban Officers in Distribution of $3,000,000 Gratuity.

HAVANA, August 2.—A Cuban gen eral, in a letter published in the Inde pendencia to-day says some commanders of the Cuban army have taken advantage of the three million dollars gratuity to get money from the soldiers for granting them the certificates necessary to enable them to collect their quota. He gives three cases of men who were charged money by Ra-mos, a colonel in a Cuban regiment. In another instance it appears, a man could not get his certificate owing to the lack of money to pay for it. The writer says: "Every day sees that the Americans are more and more right. Many years must pass before the Cubans learn how to handle ney without letting it stick to their fingers."

The general then asks, in view of the facts adduced, what would have happened if the Americans had entrusted the distribution of the gratuity to Cuan commissioners.

Senor Casanova, the owner and director of the newspaper Guacamayo, has been arrested under the decree recently issued by Major General Ludlow, governor of the department of Havana. Senor Casanova has repudiated his responsibility in connection with any ob-jectionable articles that sppeared in the paper, seeking to throw the blame for their publication on the "jail editor." so-called, because he takes the responsibilty for whatever appears in the pa-per. The "jail editor" has not yet been arrested, and in the meantime Senor Casanova is detained in custody.

Mr. Thomas Gabriel, of Eric street, an employe at the Aetna-Standard mills, says: "I contracted a cold which settled in my kidneys and caused me a great deal of trouble. In time the kidney secretions went wrong, being too frequent and often distressing. Aside from this trouble I was always strong and healthy, and feeling it would be easier to get rid of it at once, than it would be to let it go, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Logan Drug Company, and began their use. I felt the effect of three or four doses and it did not take half a box before all the symptoms of the trouble disappeared."

Violated Legation Sanctity.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 3.-Acting Secretary of State Adee has received a cablegram from Minister Pow-ell at Port Au Prince, Haiti, confirming the newspaper reports of the violation of his legation by police officers who were making an arrest. The minister added that the person who was arrest-ed (De Vivier) is a citzen of Haiti, and he seeks to know what disposition shall be made of him upon his return to the legation. The department is now giving this query consideration and it will probably direct the minister to surrenler the man to the authorities if it shall appear that the proceedings are regular and that he will be given a fair trial. If the Haltien government expresses regret at the invasion of the legation the state department will be satisfied.

Sloan's Story. NEW YORK, August 3.-Lucius L. Sloan, of Beaver, Pa., was arrested at quarantine to-day for complicity in a $1,000 robbery at Havana a fortnight Sloan protested his innocence. He said he was a clerk for Adjutant General H. L. Scott. A box containing $1,000 in American and Spanish money belonging to the woman with whom he boarded was stolen. The porter of the house and another man were arrested on suspicion. Sloan with other boarders went before a magistrate and were questioned about the matter. Sloan said he was exonerated from all complicity in the affair and he started for home on a leave of absence.

Strikers Return to Work.

PORT HURON, Mich., August 3.he striking machinists at the Grand Trunk locomotive shops returned to work to-day. The men took Mechanical Superintendent Mulhfield's statement that he will investigate as an indication that he will accede to their demands. If he decides that the company has the sole right to employ whoever it sees fit and that the union is permitted to have no voice in the mat ter the men will go out again. The chances appear good, however, for an amicable settlement, as neither men nor officers of the company are looking for any trouble that can be avoided.

Cant Change his Skin. LONDON, August 3.—The British ambassador to the United States assumes the title of Lord Pauncefote, as a result of his elevation to the peerage. He is still considering what territorial style he will take. The ambassador will return to The Hague shortly, to complete some peace conference details there and will start for Washington in October He will finally retire from the diplomatic service in March or April next. Lord Pauncefote expects to resume the Alaska negotiations, which have been "suspended during the hot weather," on his arrival in Wash-

ABOUT one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vonting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberiain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.—C. L. Hoggs, Stumptown, Glimer County, W. Va. For sale by druggists.

ONE OF THE WONDERS

That Will be Seen at the Paris Expositiou-A Mimic Ocean. Chambers Journal: many astonishing sights which the visitor to the Paris exposition of 1900 will enjoy, not the least surprising will un-doubtedly be those of the Sea Palace and the Mareorama.

The Palace of the Sea-a title, perhaps, a little too suggestive of Margate and the Hall by the Sen-was imagined by Monsieur I. Francon, and will be executed from the plans of the architect Charles Finot, made from the sketches and designs of that wellknown painter, Paul Simons. This im-mense building, capable of holding six thousand persons, will contain a sheet of water nearly four hundred feet long by about two hundred, upon which will manoeuvre a fleet of French men-of-war of the cruiser class and of the latest design. This squadron will go through various evolutions-bombarding the coasts, attacking and defeating imaginary enemies, escaping from de-struction, and representing, in short, all the details of a naval combat. It will easily be understood that it is at present impossible to give complete particulars, or, indeed, to explain by what mechanical means these men-ofwhat mechanical means these war, sixteen feet long, will go through their evolutions automatically, pointing their electric projectiles and firing their guns. We must be content, for the time being, to know that the inventor intends to make good use of torpedoes and submarine mines, and that ships will be burned and sunk in such a way as to give a complete illusion of reality. Thanks to a cleverly managed optical deception, this tank of only a few thousand square yards will present to the onlooker the semblance of a limitless ocean, the eye being so tricked that it will fail to see the opposite crowd of spectators. But this sheet of water, with its bur-ien of floating war-engines for defense and destruction, will not be the only attraction to be offered to the pub-lic. It is, indeed, only the ceiling, so to speak, of a second floor where greater marvels will be prepared to surprise and astound the sightseer. By means of an ingenious arrangement of the diving-bell, the visitor will descend underground to a distance of twenty feet, when he will find himself in an enorwhen he will find nimber in an enormous glass receptacle with transparent sides, covered and filled with water. Here he will probably be conscious of the mixed sensations of astoniahment, fear, and delight, for he will find himself apparently at the bottom of the sea. All around him will spring, in its fairy-like fantastic form, that luxuriant and unknown vegetation which the ocean conceals in its bosom. He will be able to feast his eyes on forests of beautiful sawwada to account to the control of beautiful seaweeds; to examine, with a curious mind, madrepores and corals; and to watch and inspect an infinite variety of fish, and different forms of marine life. Into the depths of this admirably simulated representation of the real ocean, divers will descend from time to time to show their methods working; and pearl-fishers, specially recruited from the east, will take their graceful plunges as though really at their hazardous task of exploring the sea's profundities for the jewels for beauty's adornment. These subterra-nean glass galleries will be lighted by electricity, and the spectacle should be both instructive and interesting.

The Mareorama is an extremely in-genious and clever application of the panoramic principle, only in this case the idea is greatly developed and given a certain amount of life. The inventor Monsieur Hugo d'Alesi, does not content himself with simply showing the sea to the public; he takes them on it, contriving to give a perfect illusion a sea-voyage, the route taken being via Marseilles, Sfax, Naples, Venice, and Constantinople. The visitors-or rather, the travellers-are to be placed on an extremely well-represented stea-mer, fitted with masts, rigging, and smoking funnel, and furnished with a crew, who will carry out the imagi-nary necessary manoeuvres. After the supposed bustle of departure, the pan-oramic pictures will unroll themselves before the suppositious tourists, giving all the impression of passing so These pictures are forty-six feet high and over three thousand feet long. Evmovement of an object which commotionless spectator the impression of personal movement; and it is thus that the Mareorama gives a perfect illusion Various incldents have been arranged to occur or the imaginary journey to give a still further air of realism. Thus, the steamer will meet and pass through a naval squadron, and there will be many o currences to impart local color. Sfax there is to be an embarkment of the harem of a rich eastern potentate, with an accompaniment of slaves of various countries; and at Naples traditional boatmen will come on board to sing and dance the tarantella. To make the expedition complete, there is even to be a storm at sea. It only mains for those possessed of more imagination than their fellows to suffer the usual ill-consequence of a sea-voyage to render the enterprise exact in
